

Privacy Policy: Phillipsons Accounting & Business Services

Phillipsons Accounting Services Pty Ltd, is committed to protecting the privacy of your personal information. Below is some information about how your personal information will be handled by us.

Collecting your personal information

Phillipsons Accounting Services Pty Ltd collects your personal information for a variety of purposes, including providing you with the services that you have requested (such as providing you with taxation advice) and contacting you about products and services in which you may be interested. Phillipsons Accounting Services Pty Ltd may also be required to collect your personal information pursuant to legislation and regulatory requirements.

If the personal information requested by Phillipsons Accounting Services Pty Ltd is not provided, your adviser may not be able to provide you with services, including providing you with advice that is appropriate to your needs, objectives and financial circumstances.

Using and disclosing your personal information

We may disclose personal information to recipients in the ordinary course of providing your services and conducting our business. The recipients of personal information could include the following:

- a related company, such as our subsidiary Phillipson Financial Planning Pty Ltd
- an agent, contractor or service provider that we engage to carry out our functions and activities, such as legal representatives, debt collectors or other advisors
- organisations involved in managing payments, including payment merchants and other financial institutions such as banks
- regulatory bodies, government agencies, law enforcement bodies and courts
- anyone else to whom the individual authorises us to disclose it.

If we collect personal information from these organisations and individuals we will deal with that information in accordance with this Policy.

Types of personal information that we collect

The types of information that we collect and hold about you could include:

- ID information, such as your name, postal or email address, telephone numbers, and date of birth
- other contact details, such as social media handles
- financial details, such as your tax file number
- other information that we think is necessary.

Marketing

We may use or disclose your personal information to let you know about products and services that might better serve your financial and lifestyle needs, or running competitions or promotions and other opportunities in which you may be interested.

We may conduct these marketing activities via email, telephone, SMS, iM, mail, or any other electronic means. We may also market our products to you through third party channels (such as social networking sites).

We will always let you know that you can opt out from receiving our third party or Group program marketing offers.

Where we market to prospective customers, we are happy to let them know how we obtained their information and will provide easy to follow opt-outs.

With your consent, we may disclose your personal information to third parties, such as brokers or agents, or for the purpose of connecting you with other businesses or customers. You can ask us not to do this at any time. We won't sell your personal information to any organisation outside our partner organisations.

Yes, you can opt-out

You can let us know at any time if you no longer wish to receive direct marketing offers from us. We will process your request as soon as practicable.

What are the other ways that we use your information?

These are some of the ways that we use your personal information:

- identifying you or verifying your authority to act on behalf of a customer
- telling you about other products or services that may be of interest to you, or running competitions and other promotions (this can be via email, telephone, SMS, iM, mail, or any other electronic means including via social networking forums), unless you tell us not to
- assisting in arrangements with other organisations (such as loyalty partners) in relation to a product or service we make available to you
- allowing us to run our business and perform administrative and operational tasks, such as:
 - training staff
 - developing and marketing products and services
 - risk management
 - systems development and testing, including our websites and other online channels
 - undertaking planning, research and statistical analysis
 - determining whether a beneficiary will be paid a benefit
 - preventing or investigating any fraud or crime, or any suspected fraud or crime
 - as required by law, regulation or codes binding us
 - for any purpose for which you have given your consent.

Correcting your personal information

How to correct your personal information

Contact us if you think there is something wrong with the information we hold about you and we'll try to correct it if it's:

- inaccurate
- out of date
- incomplete
- irrelevant
- misleading.

If you are worried that we have given incorrect information to others, you can ask us to tell them about the correction. We'll try and help where we can - if we can't, then we'll let you know in writing.

Helping you manage corrections

Whether we made the mistake or someone else made it, we are required to help you ask for the information to be corrected. So we can do this, we might need to talk to others. However, the most efficient way for you to make a correction request is to send it to the organisation which made the mistake.

Where we correct information

If we're able to correct the information, we'll let you know within five business days of deciding to do this. We'll also let the relevant third parties know as well as any others you tell us about. If there are any instances where we can't do this, then we'll let you know in writing.

Where we can't correct information

If we're unable to correct your information, we'll explain why in writing within five business days of making this decision. If you have any concerns, you can access our external dispute resolution scheme or make a complaint to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner.

Time frame for correcting information

If we agree to correct your information, we'll do so within 30 days from when you asked us, or a longer period that's been agreed by you.

If we can't make corrections within a 30 day time frame or the agreed time frame, we must:

- let you know about the delay, the reasons for it and when we expect to resolve the matter
- ask you to agree in writing to give us more time
- let you know you can complain to our external dispute resolution scheme or the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner.

Anonymous/Pseudonym

If you have general enquiry type questions, you can choose to do this anonymously or use a pseudonym. We might not always be able to interact with you this way however, as we are often governed by strict regulations that require us to know who we're dealing with. In general, we won't be able to deal with you anonymously or where you are using a pseudonym when:

- it is impracticable
- we are required or authorised by law or a court/tribunal order to deal with you personally.

Resolving your privacy issuesHow do you make a complaint?

If you have a complaint about how we handle your personal information, we want to hear from you. You can contact us by:

- phoning 03 5144 4566
- email privacy@phillipsons.com.au
- speaking to us in person at our business address.

We are committed to resolving your complaint and doing the right thing by our customers. Most complaints are resolved quickly, and you should hear from us within five business days.
